Data Protection:

IT equipment often contains confidential and sensitive information. As part of our process we cleanse all equipment to remove data before sale using the standard of choice. We ensure procedures are in place to protect customer data on hard drives and media stored in IT equipment. This requires the use of professional and certified software and machinery.

Asset Remarketing can manage your entire sales process, from the logistics required for collections through to data destruction and remarketing of items. Each and every item that we manage through our remarketing operation is catalogued and is traceable through our transparent reporting system. Our use of data eradication software is approved to HMG Security Services and CESG standards to remove all data including any licensed software.

By partnering with Asset Remarketing, you can be sure that each piece of used IT equipment sent for auction is processed and remarketed not only efficiently but also responsibly. All of this provides you with complete piece of mind that your business is not only adhering to Data Protection laws but is also having a positive return financially to your business.

IT equipment is evolving quickly, so when you replace with new technology what do you do with your outdated machines when they're no longer needed?

Contact Asset Remarketing. Our unique sales capability allows us to collect, catalogue and remarket equipment and Stock items to hundreds of thousands of buyers, we would like to remarket yours!
